INNOVATION IN SURGICAL RESEARCH & EDUCATION

Over the past decade our group of skilled researchers and surgeons have provided the best in quality educational and research support to surgeons, allied health care professionals, and medical industry partners. Our proven strategies have helped accredited institutions and countless surgeons and associated health care specialists around the world.

Our research and education programs have one focus – surgery- and Global Research Solutions do it best.

SURGICAL RESEARCH SOLUTIONS WORLDWIDE

The surgical disciplines have often lacked experienced support for planning, conducting and successfully publishing their research. The conduct of surgical research is dominated by Contract Research Organizations with limited or no expertise in surgery. Surgical research requires a thorough knowledge of the unique challenges facing surgeons, institutions, or surgical industry representatives considering the evaluation of a new or existing technique or technology.

OUR TEAM

We commit ourselves to the highest standards of integrity, honesty and quality in every aspect of our research and education activities.

Global Research Solutions sets itself apart from other research organizations by focusing its activities on surgical research and education. A collaborating team consisting of dedicated and experienced surgeons and physicians, epidemiologist, clinical researchers, research coordinators, and information technology specialists will attend to all of your research and educational needs. Currently, our team has over 50 members ranging from world recognized specialists in surgery, research methodology, and clinical research.
